

DOWN THE RABBIT HOLE

An Honest Discussion of Politics, Religion, and all Kinds of Things we are not Supposed to Talk About.

VOL 2: 5th EDITION

JANUARY 20, 2017

INAUGURATION DAY GO, MISTER TRUMP!

THE AMOUNT OF NOISE MADE TO SUPPORT AN ARGUMENT IS INVERSELY PROPORTIONAL TO THE AMOUNT OF TRUTH CONTAINED THEREIN.

Take note of the amount of noise that the Democrats/ the losers are making regarding their threats to disrupt the inauguration of the 45th President of the U.S.A. They are so wrong. Their arguments are so lame. Their puppet masters are so evident. We know who they are. We know what group of alien beings are leading the charge to perdition. Why are those creatures not in jail? Why is George Soros still breathing?

Also note how much noise Muslims make to support their strange view of reality. They have to make so much noise because what they are about is a totally false view of reality and of God and the relationship we have with our creator. Now we are seeing these fanatic hive minded pre Medieval, Dark Agers destroying ancient, precious, rare works of art in Aleppo and other places. The museums of Europe will go up in flames if White People do not stop the infestation which is presently rapidly destroying that White Continent like an army of ants taking over a picnic. It was the reason the German government during WWII stored art work in caves and other safe places under ground; to protect the works from the barbaric hordes of sub human monsters coming from the USSR and the ruthless merciless bombing of civilian targets by the ALL LIES.

Now that we are on the topic of Muslims, let us take a look at some theology.

In order to tell something properly it is good to start at the beginning. So let us do that, let us begin at the imaginary beginning of everything. Okay, first off we have to ask the question is God real or not? We have to begin with a yes or no question in order to begin this conversation.

So, in proper journalistic fashion let us examine the question and see what sort of an answer we come up with. This is not a process a lot of religious people, including the members of death cults such as Islam or Judaism, put themselves through. Most human beings prefer to leave the thinking up to their authorities; their 'leaders', their 'shepherds' and priests. However, we at DtRH are all about thinking and education, so here we are in an important discussion regarding something you should all be doing.

The First a priori assumption is: There is no beginning. The reality we experience, as in the UNIVERSE has always existed, it is merely growing larger over time as more and more creative activity takes place which results in galaxies, as we call them here on Earth.

The Universal Being, Whom we have named with the word, God, is the First Source and Center of All Reality. Since All reality includes: consciousness; the knowledge of the I AM that I AM, Décartes' Cognito ergo sum, there has to be a First Consciousness. However, in an eternal reality, the First Consciousness, the First I AM, is He Whom we call, God, or some of us, more on the Jesus frequency, call, Father, since He is the First Source and Center of ALL reality. Again, remember, He is, was, and forever will be, the Eternal Father; the Alpha and Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End.

Now, being as how The Universal Father is a mighty creative power, and not particularly keen on experiencing reality all by Himself made a son. That mighty power and the application of intelligence; again we admit this to be a reality, hence, the first intelligence is God, Who, like a dynamo generates electricity and begat that what we call, The Holy Ghost, or The Infinite Spirit; the generative power which results in actions that manipulate energy to form matter and so make new things. The combination of this incredible energy, the Eternal Father and the Infinite Spirit begat sons who are the creators; they who are like unto God. Hence, we have the concept of the Trinity: Father, Spirit, Son. The Holy Spirit, if you will is the Mother of the Son. Muslims do not accept the idea of the Trinity and if you believe in this idea, you will be punished. Most likely you will be killed in some horrific, barbaric fashion. Thought Crime is what belief in the Trinity is to them.

The sons of God went out into the reaches of potential and began to create universes; now totally so many your computers can not calculate the number. The Grand Universe is populated with billions of living creatures, many of them sentient and of many different sizes, as well, since this reality we live in is fractal. Indeed, the Bible is quite accurate in revealing that there were 'races of giants', 'men of renown', living in earlier times on this planet. Indeed, the Smithsonian Institution for the Protection of Lies, has been actively covering up information regarding the exhumation of HUGE human skeletons. These remains are found all over the planet. Hence, it is conceivable that Earth could see the return of such huge human looking beings. If they came here from elsewhere, as in from 'outer space', their transport vessels would be also very large. If such beings land here and are intent upon harming us, what can we do to protect ourselves? Go underground?

It has become ever more apparent that, indeed, a lot of people are going underground. We have learned, for example, of many deep underground installations the size of cities where apparently government, military, and other elite human beings are and will be going to when TSHTF. What that S... is, we do not know for certain, but war is in the picture which could escalate into some sort of thermo nuclear conflagration. OR, perhaps an alien invasion? Hollywood has certainly been sending that message out for quite a while. OR, maybe geophysical catastrophe becomes the issue. There are lots of signs to indicate this may be in the works; or perhaps all three scenarios all at once?

The West Coast is radioactive. It is also highly unstable and more earthquakes are being felt there, lately. We know that H.A.A.R.P can be used to effect earthquakes by bombarding the unstable faults with very low frequency vibrations directed at particularly vulnerable spots along the San Andreas fault, for example.

The H.A.A.R.P can also be used to stir up those slag heaps you call volcanoes. There is a huge one just south of Red Deer; the largest caldera in NORAM and is known to you as Yellowstone. It is highly unstable and indications are that any day now it will erupt into such a cataclysmic event, the smoke and ash will travel for thousands of miles all around and do more damage than an earlier eruption just west of there; Mount Saint Helens. When Yellowstone goes, it will make Mt. St. H appear as a pimple burst in comparison.

